appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Fig and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. New-comb's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates healthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MISSIONARY SCHOONER

PROBABLY LOST

With a Score of Lives on the Coast of Alaska.

San Francisco, July 8.—The schooner Monterey, Captain Anderson, arriving today from Kuskowin, Alaska, reports the possible loss of the missionary schooner J. F. Abler and a score of lives. The Abler sailed from Seattle on June 3 with a crew of eight men and twelve or thirteen passengers. When the Monterey arrived at Bethel, whither the Abler was bound, Captain Anderson was informed by Indian trappers that the missionary vessel had last been seen struggling in a heavy storm at sea. The Monterey sailed up and down the coast, but saw no sign of the Abler. Captain Anderson says it is possible that the missing vessel took refuge at Bristol Bay.

Eccentricity of Genius.

As Alexander Dumas had dined with a state minister, somebody asked him if he had enjoyed himself. He replied: "If it had not been for me, I would have been bored." Dumas was in the habit of giving two francs to a beggar whenever he met him. Once he had only two cents, which he gave. "Oh, M. Dumast!" exclaimed the beggar, reprovingly. "Give them to a beggar," he replied.

A Queen's Critical Brother.

Marie Antoinette's brother Joseph could not bear the rouge pot, and one evening when the queen was going out, being heavily rouged, the emperor was looking on. Pointing to a lady present who was excessively debauched with paint, Joseph remarked facetiously: "A little more under the eyes! lay on the rouge like fury, as that lady does!"—From Hassard's Louis XVI.

Hint for the Children.

Do not encourage precocity, either mental or physical, in young children. Do not even encourage them to walk until they make the attempt themselves. And even then be careful that the child does not overtax his little strength or put a burden on his legs that will make them ill-formed or crooked.—New York Telegram.

How a Woman Picks 'Em.

Maybe the reason some women can love the little onery, shaggy, off-colored thing with hair all in its eyes, which charity permits you to call a dog, better than their husbands—is that the average wife selects the dog she really wants, but takes her husband out of a job lot.—New York Press.

A Woman of Some Weight.

A woman who weighed 448 pounds, was buried at Eye, Suffolk, Eng. recently. The coffin was six and a half feet long, three feet across, and two feet deep, and was taken to the cemetery on a dory, being lowered into the grave by chains and pulleys.

Degrees of Heroism.

"Of course," said Uncle Eben, "dar'nt no 'courage of me 'gain' 'till wif a gun an' 'stinguhsh' m'ys' by knockin' over big game. But I 'dows feel sum' pin' like a hero when I invites Sunday company an' kills a couple o' chickens for dinner."

Beyond Human Vision.

As the poet says, the goal of this great world lies beyond sight. The longer we look for it the more puzzled we are about the path. The ideal stars we have followed prove to be rush-lights.

Make the Best of Everything.

The secret of a cheerful life lies in making the best of things and putting fret and worry behind you.

True Wisdom.

A wise man always finds assistance
in everything, for his gift of wisdom consists in extracting good from everything and everybody.—Runkin.

Need of Play for Children.

Play is the great social stimulus,
and it is the prime motive which unites children and draws them into comradeship.—Jane Addams.

Race of Dwarfs.

The Lapiander's average height is four feet eleven inches for the men,
and two inches less for the women.

First Use of Term "John Bull."

The name "John Bull," as applied to the English nation, was first made use of in a poem dated 1712.

The Difference.

German proverb: Petty thieves are hanged; great thieves are asked to dinner.

the world is a wilderness.

Overcome Adversity.

The waves which sorrow lashes up around us stand high between us and the world and make our ship solitary
in the midst of a haven full of vessels.
Cannot one do like the fair sun, and go under the waves and yet come back again. And yet, after all, if you look upon his going down rightly
there is no such thing in reality.—
Richter.

As the Child Saw It.

Little Bernice, aged three, was taken to the barber shop one day to have her hair trimmed. A few days later her mamma asked her what she saw at the barber shop, whereupon she answered: "O mamma, there was a man came in, and another man put icing all over his face."
—The Delineator.

Who Taught Her Caution?

Isabel, aged four, was talking to an imaginary friend over the telephone,
when her mother heard her say:
"Wait a minute, Rocky, my brother
is right here listening to all you say,
and my mother is in the room, too;
don't tell me about it now."—Delineator.

The Reason.

The following conversation was overheard between two boys, aged seven and five: "Joe, why can't chickens talk?" "Aw, they don't have to.
When they wants anything, they just pull their wish-bones and they get their wish."—The Delineator.

Beloved Physicians.

The good practitioner is he who can temper mercy with justice in the matter of payment, not urging the poor and those who have fallen on evil days, nor, if need be, exacting
any payment at all.—Medical Magazine.

Stevenson's Tribute to Friendship.

If we find but one to whom we can speak out of our heart freely, with whom we can walk in love and simplicity without dissimulation, we have no ground of quarrel with the world.
—Stevenson.

Daily Thought.

A soul that dwelleth with virtue is like a perennial spring; for it is pure,
limpid and refreshing, and inviting,
and serviceable, and rich, and innocent, and impervious.—Epictetus.
